OLÉO-SCIENCE NATURELLE

Just what my skin needs

ESSENTIALLY SIMPLE, INFINITELY POWERFUL.

*« I wanted to create a different line of cosmetics,
I am constantly searching for the softest intimacy with our skin.*

I designed it scientifically, getting my inspiration from nature while making sure to protect and cherish it. I designed it with passion and conscience, for more efficiency, safety and sensoriality. »

MANIFEST

At Epicosm, we believe it's time to change the game.

We believe that getting back to basics is the way to preserve our skin, our health and our environment.

We want to breathe new life into a beauty routine that has become too complex, with a list of ingredients so long that it is potentially risky. Our goal is to instill more simplicity and naturalness. More truth. And this without ever failing in the quality and effectiveness of our products, thus respecting the requirements acquired during our dermatological journey.

Inspired by Aboriginal culture, which favors a pure and perfect balance between Nature and Mankind, Epicosm's line of natural cosmetics was scientifically and passionately designed based on the composition of the skin and its real needs, providing only the essential to be moisturized, protected and regenerated.

The idea? Eliminate water, an inactive ingredient that makes up the majority of cosmetic products, and to give priority to natural vegetable oils supplemented with ultra-concentrated anti-aging ingredients. Lightweight formulations, without water, without superfluous ingredients, without preservatives.

Fewer products, less packaging, less plastic: the beauty routine becomes sustainable, eco-responsible, reasoned.

Epicosm, just what my skin needs.

CONCEPT - OLEO-SCIENCE

The only water that hydrates your skin is the water you drink.

The skin's barrier function is provided by a 90% lipidic shield that prevents water from entering or escaping. That's why Epicosm's line is entirely based on vegetable oils.

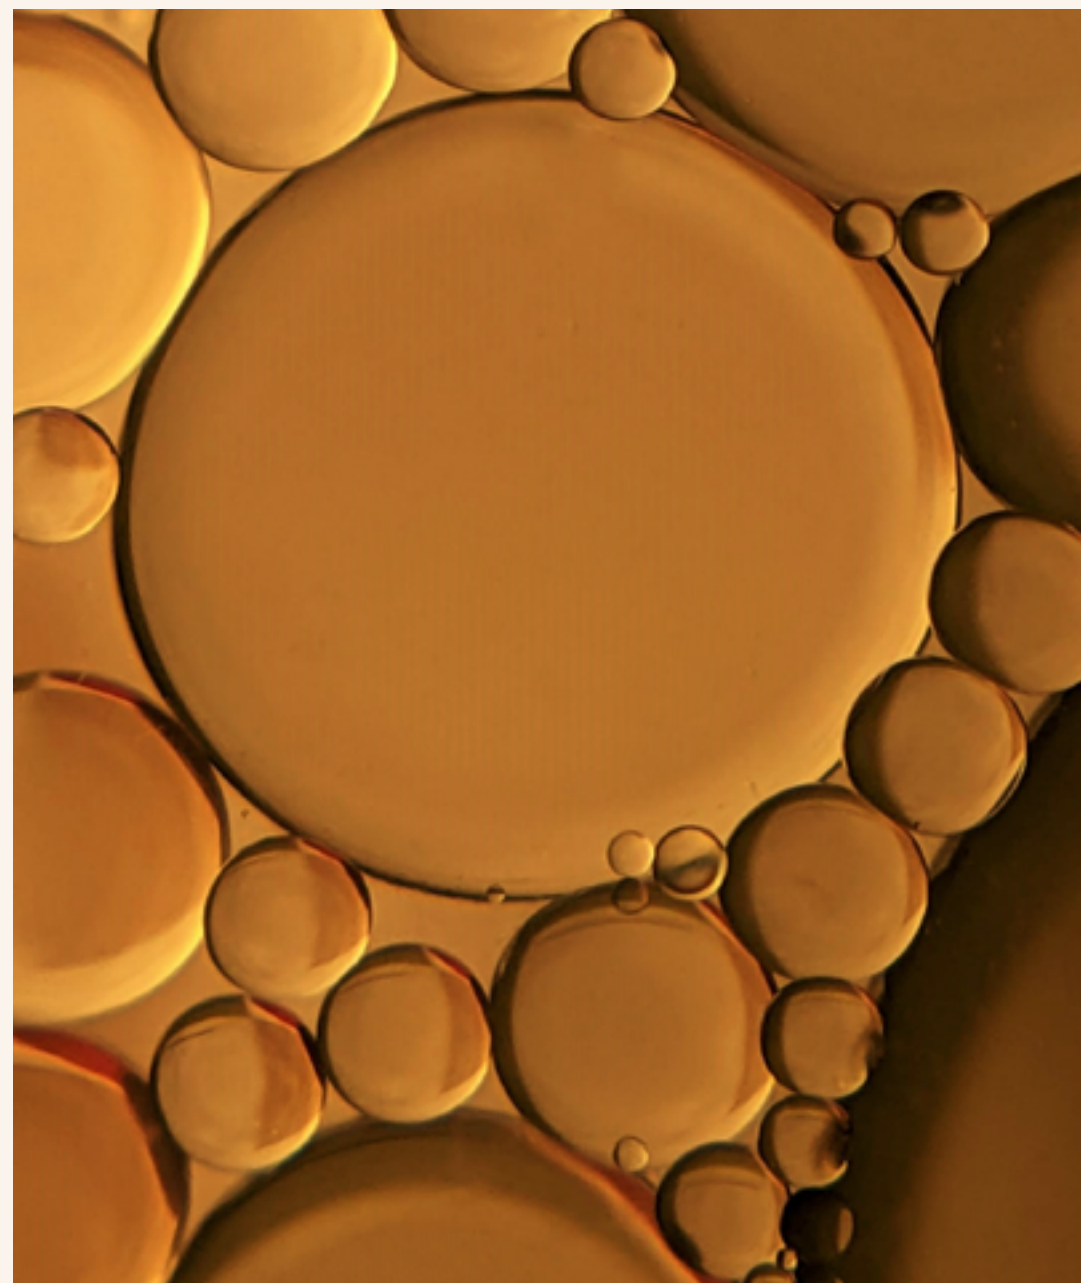

The richness in fatty acids of our skincare products reinforces the skin's superficial corneal layer, its intercellular lipidic cement and restores the integrity of the hydrolipidic film. Naturally active due to their composition, they have a high affinity with the superficial cutaneous tissue which allows them to penetrate quickly and deeply, leaving an incomparable softness on the surface.

These fatty acids carry with them the added vitamins and antioxidants (polar lipids, Vitamins A, C, E, Coenzyme Q10, Silicon...) optimizing their skin penetration and their effectiveness.

Macadamia oil has a privileged place in our formulas. Native to Australia, its exceptional palmitoleic acid content and its composition very close to sebum make it ideal for all skin types, from the oiliest to the driest.

Contrary to popular belief, NO, vegetable oils do not make the skin greasy: our textures are light and innovative to guarantee you a unique sensory experience, without any greasy, sticky or shiny effect.

CONCEPT - THE OLEO-SERUM

Composition

The oleo-serums are the most iconic products of the Epicosm line.

Cocktails of natural vegetable oils enriched with active ingredients, vitamins and antioxidants, they replace serum, day cream, night cream and eye contour. They are unique skincare products, to be used morning and night.

Formulated for optimal tolerance, you can pick from four different serum to suit your age and skin type.

They gradually and naturally restore the skin's softness and radiance, while protecting it from various sources of external stress and aging.

Packaging

Our oleo-serums are packaged in glass bottles, an inert and stable material that can be recycled. The glass is black, to protect the oils and vitamins from the light.

Finally, the roll-on protects them from air, a source of oxidation, optimizing the conservation of the product throughout the duration of use. Moreover, it delivers only the right dose to avoid wasting. Bonus: it offers a soft and massaging application.

The beauty routine becomes sustainable, nomadic, minimalist and eco-responsible!
